CREATOR PROFILES

CHAD RHINESS is a graduate of the University of Michigan (Go Blue!), and he's currently a Senior Writer at AdHoc Studio where he's written on a number of projects, most notably Dispatch, the game on which this comic is based. While not working on Dispatch related things, Chad likes to play TTRPGs, disc golf, and foster dogs through the great folks at Angel City Pitbulls. Check him out here:

ANDY MACDONALD is a drawing machine and a master of comics pages, having drawn for pretty much every major publisher and worked on characters like Dr. Strange, She-Hulk, Wolverine, Multiple Man, Batman and Justice League America and The Terminator. His strength definitely lies in robots, which was exemplified in his Image series NYC Mech with Ivan Brandon and Miles Gunter.

LORENZO SCARAMELLA is a comic artist, colorist, and illustrator from Rome, Italy. After graduating from art school, he began coloring for American publishers including Aftershock, Mad Cave, Dynamite, IDW, RedKing, Tokyo Pop, and KeenSpot. He also works on indie projects across Italy and Europe—and definitely drinks too much coffee.

He has lettered a number of modern classics including DC: The New Frontier, Paper Girls, Batman Year 100, The Spirit, Prince of Cats, The Blood Brother's Mother and more.

BETTY JIANG is a Canadian artist based in Los Angeles. Born to frolic but forced to labour, she has been working in the video game industry for a little over a decade. You can find her work in titles such as Path of Exile 2, Batman: Arkham Shadow, and Iron Man VR. When she's not painting, she's hanging out with her bunny, vacuuming and browsing surplus stores.
